I once had a heart that was dead in the grave

Bound in the darkness, a powerless slave

Then heaven reached down from the cross to my soul

Hell started to shake and it had to let go

I'll never get over it, I'll never get over it

I was dead in my sin but Your love wouldn't quit

And I'll never get over it

I once was a prisoner in sin's heavy chains

Held for a debt I could never repay

Then out of the grave with a great victory

He shattered those chains and He set me free

I'll never get over it, I'll never get over it

I was dead in my sin but Your love wouldn't quit

And I'll never get over it

After ten thousand years on that golden shore

I'll sing it again and a million times more

Eternity spent with one song on my lips

I'll never get over it

After ten thousand years on that golden shore

I'll sing it again and a million times more

Eternity spent with one song on my lips

Oh, I'll never get over it
