

The Indian national flag, known as the Tiranga, is depicted waving in the upper right corner of the image. It features three horizontal stripes of equal width: saffron at the top, white in the middle, and green at the bottom. In the center of the white stripe is a navy blue wheel with 24 spokes, representing the Ashoka Chakra. The background of the entire image is a gradient of green and orange, with a dark grey horizontal band across the middle.
