

Moral relativism is a philosophy that asserts there is no global, absolute moral law that applies to all people, for all time, and in all places.

Collision

How does a follower of Jesus honor God, grow in faith and reach people for Jesus in a collision with a culture hostile to Jesus?

Collision

Hebrews 1.1-2

If God really speaks to us, then what He says and reveals is the true and absolute authority.

The Book Of Hebrews

1. God, after He spoke long ago to the fathers in the prophets in many portions and in many ways,
2. in these last days has spoken to us in His Son whom He appointed heir of all things, through whom also He made the world.

We can know something about God because, historically, He tells us something about Himself.

Whatever God reveals to us, or tells us, must have authority, final authority.

If Jesus is God's final revelation, Jesus is God's final authority.

Who Gets To Decide?

If you reject Jesus as authority, you have to replace him with something or someone else.

The nature and work of Jesus authenticates his authority.

Become fluent in Jesus.

If you cast Jesus aside, whatever you replace him with is immensely inferior. And you end up living in rebellion against God.
