Who Is My Reason To Live?

Paul's Letter to the

Philippians

1:19-26

I am going to keep on being glad, for I know that as you pray for me, and as the Holy Spirit helps me, this is all going to turn out for my good.

is all going to turn out for my good. 20 For I live in eager expectation and hope that I will never do anything that will cause me to be ashamed of myself

but that I will always be ready to speak out boldly for Christ while I am going through all
these trials here,

21 For to me, living
means opportunities for Christ, and dying—well, that's better yet!

But if living will give me more opportunities to win people to Christ, then I really don't know which is better, to live or die!

Sometimes I want to live,
and at other times
I don't, for I long to go and be with Christ.

How much happier for me than being here!

24 But the fact is that I can be of more help to you by staying!

Yes, I am still needed down here, and so I feel certain I will be staying on earth a little longer,

to help you grow and become happy in your faith; my staying
will make you glad

and give you reason to glorify Christ
Jesus for keeping me safe when I return to visit you again.

A large, weathered wooden cross stands prominently in the foreground on the right side of the image. The cross is made of thick, dark wood and is set against a dramatic sky filled with dark, heavy clouds that are illuminated from below, creating a mix of purple, blue, and orange hues. In the background, a line of trees is silhouetted against the horizon. The foreground is a lush green field.

For I live in eager expectation and hope that I will never do anything that will cause me to be ashamed of myself but that I will always be ready to speak out boldly for God. Phil. 1:20

A photograph of a rocky landscape. In the foreground, there are large, grey, textured rock formations. A deep, dark crevice runs through the center of the rocks. In the background, there is a dense forest of green trees and shrubs. The sky is not visible. The overall scene is natural and rugged.
