

The Blessing of This Day
Psalm 118:24

The _____ the psalmist is focused on is _____.

Someone said, “_____ is the only day you _____.”

How should _____ people view _____ day?

Answer: As a _____ from _____.

I. The _____ about This Day (v.24a)

- This Day is _____ by _____.

Viewing This Day only from a _____
_____ is a very _____ view of This Day.

The psalmist goes beyond _____ when he says: “This is the day the _____ has made . . .”

A.A.Milne wrote: _____ is _____,
_____ is a _____. But _____ is a _____. That’s why we call it the _____.”

- This Day is _____ by God (v.24a)

God _____ create _____ for the sake of
_____. He _____ creates with a
_____. (Rev. 4:11)

To ensure that His purpose is _____,
He is _____ in control of all His creation. (Acts 4:24)

In the end, God will _____ His _____ purpose regardless of what we do.

But, if we want to find _____ day _____ in
_____ and _____, we must _____ daily to His will. It’s to our _____ as well as to _____ glory.

When we come to God through saving _____ in Christ, we find
His _____ for our lives.

II. The _____ to This Day (v.24b)

To rejoice in This Day is not based upon _____,
_____, or _____.

Rather, rejoicing is based upon the _____ that God creates
and controls each day.

This is no “_____ and _____ it” response.

Rejoicing in each day is about _____ - an attitude
produced by _____ in God and His word.

Lest we forget, the _____ is a life lived by
_____. 2 Corinthians 5:7 says, “For we _____ by faith,
not by sight.”

Regardless of the _____ of day the Christian is experiencing,
there is _____ reason to _____.
(Romans 8:28, James 1:2-4)

If you’re unsaved, God gives you this day to turn from your sins
and trust Jesus Christ to save you. (2 Corinthians 6:2b)

Psalm 118:24

The _____ the psalmist is focused on is _____.

Someone said, “_____ is the only day you _____.”

How should _____ people view _____ day?

Answer: As a _____ from _____.

I. The _____ about This Day (v.24a)

- This Day is _____ by _____.

Viewing This Day only from a _____
_____ is a very _____ view of This Day.

The psalmist goes beyond _____ when he says: “This is the day the _____ has made . . .”

A.A.Milne wrote: _____ is _____,
_____ is a _____. But _____
is a _____. That’s why we call it the _____.”

- This Day is _____ by God (v.24a)

God _____ create _____ for the sake of
_____. He _____ creates with a
_____. (Rev. 4:11)

To ensure that His purpose is _____,
He is _____ in control of all His creation. (Acts 4:24)

In the end, God will _____ His _____ purpose regardless of what we do.

But, if we want to find _____ day _____ in
_____, and _____, we must _____

daily to His will. It’s to our _____ as well as to _____ glory.

When we come to God through saving _____ in Christ, we find
His _____ for our lives.

II. The _____ to This Day (v.24b)

To rejoice in This Day is not based upon _____,
_____, or _____.

Rather, rejoicing is based upon the _____ that God creates
and controls each day.

This is no “_____ and _____ it” response.

Rejoicing in each day is about _____ - an attitude
produced by _____ in God and His word.

Lest we forget, the _____ is a life lived by
_____. 2 Corinthians 5:7 says, “For we _____ by faith,
not by sight.”

Regardless of the _____ of day the Christian is experiencing,
there is _____ reason to _____.
(Romans 8:28, James 1:2-4)

If you’re unsaved, God gives you this day to turn from your sins
and trust Jesus Christ to save you. (2 Corinthians 6:2b)