

Week 1 Discussion Guide

Reviewing the Message

Sunday's message talked about how Jesus addressed money not to get something from us, but to get something for us: our hearts. Let's review the core teachings and Scripture shared in the sermon.

1. Why do you think Jesus talked about money so often in His ministry, even though He never asked for it?
 2. What are the two types of treasure Jesus mentioned in Matthew 6, and how are they different?
 3. According to the sermon, what does it mean to have a "healthy eye" versus an "unhealthy eye"?
 4. How did the sermon define materialism, and why is it described as one of the greatest dangers for Christians today?
 5. What does Jesus mean when He says we cannot serve both God and money?

Connecting to the Message

Sunday's message challenged us to consider how materialism and money influence our thinking, our vision of the world, and our loyalty. Let's explore how this message intersects with our personal experiences and values.

6. When you think about your own life, what are some “earthly treasures” you’re tempted to store up?
 7. How do you personally relate to the abundance mindset versus the scarcity mindset described in the message?
 8. In what ways has your view of money and possessions been shaped by your family background or past experiences?
 9. How can materialism subtly disguise itself as godliness in our lives or Christian culture?
 10. What does it look like in today’s world to try to serve both God and money at the same time?

Applying the Message

Sunday’s message ended with an invitation to live generously and to invest in what lasts forever. These final questions focus on how we plan to take next steps and respond to what God is showing us through this message.

11. What’s one step you can take this week to shift your focus from earthly treasure to heavenly treasure?
12. How can you be more intentional about using your time, talent, or treasure to serve God’s kingdom?
13. What are some practical ways you can begin to practice generosity in your daily life?
14. Who in your life might benefit from your generosity this week - and how could you bless them?
15. Together, what is one way we can encourage each other to live with healthy eyes and generous hearts?
